

Position: Sales Listing Analyst

To Apply: Fill out the application at sojournerlogistics.com/hiring to get started!

Description: A Listing Analyst assists in achieving company objectives by listing products for sale, analyzing product sales performance, and making recommendations on actions to drive sales and maximize margins on sales venues amongst others. This is a position that can be as dynamic as the individual in the role allows. There are plenty of opportunities to learn new things and acquire valuable skills such as learning intricacies of product listings, Search Engine Optimization (SEO), marketing, photo-editing, inventory management and more, all in a small-business environment of highly motivated people. Opportunities to cross-train and help in other areas may emerge as well.

Requirements: We expect professionalism and adoption of Company Core Values. One must be a motivated team player able to collaborate well with others and work effectively on their own. Basic time management, math, grammatic and rhetorical skills are a must.

Desired Skills and Attributes: Teachable, driven, critical-thinking, graphic design experience, marketing, sales experience online, analytical, desire to grow.

Perks Include (but not limited to):

- Performance-based raises
- Upward mobility potential
- Goal Incentives
- Valuable small-business experience
- Flexible schedule
- Free drinks and snacks in office
- Referral Program
- Employee Discount

Compensation: All positions begin at $12/hour or more depending on candidate skills and experience. Company promotes from within.

Hours: Part-time or Full-time opportunities are available. Must be able to work at least 25 hours per week.

Remote: Position is in-office. There is the potential for some remote work eventually depending on employee performance and other variables, but it is not guaranteed.

To Apply: Fill out the application at sojournerlogistics.com/hiring to get started!